EPA Okays Planning Funds

Grant Approved For Sewer Project

By DEBBIE N. LEE
Staff Reporter

The building of Murray's new sewer treatment plant has been moved a step closer with the allocation of $268,060 by the Environmental Protection Agency for the designing stage, Phase Two, of the project.

The funds will be used to prepare approvable plans and specifications for a new oxidation ditch wastewater treatment plant, pump stations, force mains and interceptor sewers.

Murray Mayor Melvin B. Henley said this morning that the allocation of funds for Phase Two indicates the final approval of the planning stage of the project, Phase One, which was begun five years ago.

Following the completion of Phase Two, which should take one year, Phase Three, the construction phase, will begin, Henley said. No site has been chosen for the plant as yet, although several are under consideration.

Three-fourths of the cost of the project will be covered by a federal grant with the city picking up the tab for the remaining one-fourth.

In relating the history of Phase One, Henley said that the original 201 Facilities Plan, proposed by Chester Engineers of Coraopolis, Pa., in August 1976, called for an expansion of the present sewer treatment plant located east of Murray on Highway 94.

Following the city's change this year to a new engineering firm, G. Reynolds

Watkins Consulting Engineers of Lexington, it was determined to be more cost effective to build a new sewage treatment plant rather than expanding the present one, Henley said.

The Watkins firm found that an additional $950,000 in renovation and additional equipment not included in the original proposal would be necessary to meet EPA standards of treatment if the city decided to expand the old plant.

The new engineers also concluded that operation of the existing plant after expansion would be approximately 10 percent more expensive than operation of a new plant treating the same quantity and quality of waste. This differed from the original study projection that the new plant would be 11 percent more expensive to operate than an expansion of the existing plant.

Factors on which Watkins based its opinion were the higher power consumption of the old plant because of inefficiencies of older equipment, increased labor costs of the older plant operation and frequent replacement of existing old equipment because of breakdowns.

In addition, Watkins found that operation of a new treatment plant would have a lower increased cost per month for customers than operation of an expanded old plant. This was in opposition to the original estimate of a higher increased customer cost if the new plant option was chosen.

Following a meeting and tour of the existing plant early this year which included representatives of the Atlanta office of the EPA, state Department of Natural Resources personnel, the engineers and Murray officials, the EPA notified the city that it concurred with the new engineer's findings.

The EPA report stated that in addition to the cost factors, expansion of the plant would pose a problem because of the lack of space inside the existing buildings and the unavailability of land for some additional structures.

Before final approval of the plans for the new plant, EPA officials recommended that the city evaluate the oxidation ditch treatment process instead of the old rotating bio-disc method which was originally proposed.

Henley said that after city officials visited treatment plants across the country, it was determined that the oxidation ditch method had 20-30 percent better effluent (outflow) results than the bio-disc method.

The oxidation ditch method was also estimated to cost $800,000 less to install than the bio-disc method, therefore saving the city $200,000 and the federal government $600,000 under the 75-25 percent plan.

The mayor also pointed out that the operation maintenance of the oxidation ditch method should run $60,000-$80,000 a year less than the bio-disc method. The total savings to the city by using the oxidation ditch method should total more than $1 million over a 10-year period, Henley said.

Miller Denies Connection With Complaint Against Almo Company

Calloway County Judge-Executive Robert O. Miller this morning denied accusations made by Floyd Nixon Wednesday concerning the restraining order that was levied Tuesday on Nixon's candy operation.

The restraining order prohibits all operations of Kentucky Products, Inc., in Almo, owned by Nixon. The order came from Circuit Court Judge James M. Lassiter.

Miller said he has not talked with Nixon or other parties involved and he added that what information he has about the case, he "has read in the newspaper."

Nixon claimed that he and Miller have had "several past disagreements." Nixon stated that he suspected Miller put "local pressure" on Bill Dillard, Hopkinsville, state food inspector for the region where the candy firm is located.

Nixon said he felt Miller had requested that Dillard do "more than a normal inspection" on the candy company. However, Dillard has resigned from inspecting Nixon's establishment. Dillard still inspects all other establishments in the area, Nixon said.

James Adams, Owensboro, replaced Dillard as inspector of the Almo candy company, according to Nixon. Nixon today related a conversation he had with Adams Tuesday in which, Nixon claims, Adams stated he thought the candy facility looked "quite good." Nixon added that Adams would not discuss the matter further.

Concerning any link with Miller, Nixon said he "has never been in Judge Miller's office." Nixon said Adams would not comment further on the subject.

Nixon said, in the conversation with Adams, he felt Adams had indicted that the law concerning manufacturing and selling of food was very broad. Nixon also said that Adams indicted to him that an isolated picture from "even the cleanest, most sanitary candy manufacturer" could cause it to be closed.

The restraining order is the result of complaint filed Aug. 29 in Calloway Circuit Court by the Kentucky Department of Human Resources.

The complaint was entered by Marvin R. O'Koon, general counsel and signed for him by Terry L. Morrison, attorney for the state Department of Human Resources.

The complaint alleges that the candy company has "consistently and repeatedly conducted (its) business in a manner which is in violation of the Kentucky Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act and has on numerous occasions produced, prepared, packed or held food under unsanitary conditions, whereby it may have become contaminated."

According to Calloway County Attorney Max Parker, the next legal step is for Nixon and his lawyer, Don Jones, to take action against the injunction.

A hearing on the matter has been set for 1:30 p.m. Monday, Sept. 10, in Circuit Court.

In his ruling, Lassiter said Nixon and the company are restrained and enjoined from:

— "Producing, preparing, packing or holding for sale any items of food as defined in KRS 217.015(4), except for items of food which were produced, prepared, packed or held for sale prior to the date of service of this order and which have also been inspected by the plaintiff's (the state Department of Human Resources) authorized representatives and found to be wholesome, safe for consumption, and in all respects in compliance with the Kentucky Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act KRS 217.005 to 217.215;"

— "Transporting, selling, shipping, reprocessing or otherwise disposing of any items of foods which have been quarantined by the plaintiff's representatives as stated above;"

NEW FACILITY — The Murray Electric System is constructing a new 69,000-volt to 13,000-volt substation on Olive Street. The project, costing around $500,000 began in mid-July, a company spokesman said. He added the purposes of the new substation are to allow additional capacity to system users and to relief some obsolete stations. Estimated completion date of the facility is around Christmas, the spokesman added.

Retired Military Men Urge SALT Rejection

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than 1,500 retired generals and admirals urged rejection of the SALT II treaty in a letter delivered today to the Senate by a former chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Adm. Thomas H. Moorer told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee that he sought the views of retired military officers because "active duty military leaders are not permitted to flatly oppose SALT II."

The letter charged that the strategic arms limitation treaty gives the Soviet Union a heavy advantage and that the United States would not be able to detect possible Soviet cheating.

"As military professionals, and with all due respect for our more circumscribed colleagues still bound by their active service, we strongly urge you to reject SALT II as injurious to the security interests of the United States and its allies," said the letter signed by 1,678 retired officers.

It was presented as the committee resumed its hearings on the pact after a day's delay for closed-door briefings on the presence of 2,000 to 3,000 Soviet troops in Cuba.

Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, the committee's chairman, served notice Wednesday that "there is no likelihood whatever the Senate would ratify the SALT treaty as long as Russian combat troops remain stationed in Cuba."

Sen. Jacob Javits of New York, ranking committee Republican, declined to join in Church's statement, saying, "At this particular moment, predictions would be very hazardous."

Moorer's letter was signed by such well-known treaty foes as Adm. Elmo Zumwalt, who with Moorer was a member of the Joint Chiefs of Staff in the early 1970s; Maj. Gen. John Singlaub, who was relieved of his South Korean command after criticizing the administration's troop withdrawal policy; Lt. Gen. Daniel Graham, former head of the Defense Intelligence Agency; and Maj. Gen. George Keegan, former chief of Air Force intelligence. Moore was testifying as a leader of the pro-defense Coalition for Peace through Strength.

Active duty military officers are generally expected to support administration policies, but are free to express their personal views when asked in congressional appearances.

The current members of the Joint Chiefs of Staff earlier this summer characterized the treaty as a "modest but useful step" in arms limitation, but said "none of us is totally at ease with all the provisions of the agreement."

Eugene Rostow, of the Committee on the Present Danger and another SALT critic, testified that the treaty would hinder U.S. efforts to maintain military equality with the Soviet Union.

In announcing the resumption of hearings, Church left no doubt he would try to use the treaty as a lever to force removal of the Soviet troops in Cuba.

He said resumption of the hearings "does not commit the committee to any given action on the treaty, nor does it commit the committee to any particular timetable."

Meanwhile in Havana, Cuba, the official government news agency said U.S. statements about the presence of Soviet combat troops there were a "maneuver" aimed at discrediting Cuba during the current meeting of non-aligned nations.

But Prensa Latina, in the first official reaction to the reports, stopped short of denying the troops' presence. The statement echoed an earlier unofficial comment by a government spokesman.

New Member Will Be Sworn In At Parks Board Meeting

A new member of the Murray-Calloway County Parks Board, Florence Hudspeth, will be sworn in at the Tuesday, Sept. 11, meeting of the board. The 5:30 p.m. meeting will be held at the Calloway County Courthouse.

Mrs. Hudspeth was appointed to fill the remainder of the term of Chester McCuiston, who died June 20. McCuiston's term expires Nov. 15.

Other items on the agenda include the report of parks director Gary Hohman, the finance committee report, discussion of easement and the appointment of a nominating committee.

Paducah Man Shot, Two Arrested In Benton Break-In

BENTON, Ky. (AP) — A Paducah man was shot to death and two others were arrested after they broke into a rural Benton residence Wednesday night, state police said.

Police said Gary Lilly, 35, of Lone Oak Road, Paducah — formerly of Brookport, Ill., was fatally injured. Marshall County Sheriff Joe Tom Halton said two others fled but were captured nearby and lodged in the Marshall County Jail.

He did not identify them, saying an investigation was continuing and more arrests were expected.

According to a police statement, the three were caught inside the home of Clinton Henson about 8 p.m. CDT by state police, Marshall County sheriff's deputies and officers of the federal bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms.

"One of the suspects, armed with a revolver, was shot and killed in the confrontation with the officers," the release said.

League Of Women Voters Will Hold Membership Coffee

The Murray-Calloway County League of Women Voters will hold a membership coffee on Saturday, Sept. 8, at 10 a.m. at the Calloway County Public Library on Main Street in Murray.

New members are being actively sought, and interested persons are invited to attend the coffee to become acquainted with League officers and members, a spokesman said.

A brief overview of League programs and activities on the national, state and local levels will be presented by members. Also, an outline of local meetings for the year and reports on special projects will be available.

Persons unable to attend the coffee may obtain further information by calling Phyllis Alvic, League vice president, at 753-0151.

Weakened Tropical Storm David Spews Tornadoes On East Coast

By CHARLOTTE PORTER
Associated Press Writer

Tropical Storm David spewed tornadoes from Virginia to New Jersey and caused flooding that forced hundreds to flee their homes today as it moved into the crowded northeast still packing a destructive wallop.

Three more deaths were attributed to the storm, bringing the number of U.S. casualties to 13. David has caused more than 900 deaths since it was spawned in the Caribbean last week.

Some 800 to 1,000 people were evacuated from their homes in Maryland early today, most of them in Baltimore, where police were rescuing persons stranded in their cars or trapped in their homes as floodwaters rose. On one city street, floodwaters caused by 3 inches to 7 inches of rain piled cars on top of each other.

One man was killed when a tornado hit his trailer home in suburban Philadelphia, police said.

The tropical storm lost its hurricane force over land Wednesday as it passed through the southern Atlantic Coast states, leaving behind a trail of downed trees and eroded beaches. Officials said they were relieved the damage wasn't worse.

"If you're going to have a hurricane, you couldn't have a nicer one," Jim Zumwalt, supervisor of South Carolina's Beaufort County, declared as Gov. Dick Riley took a look at the damage from one of the century's worst storms.

At 3 a.m. EDT, the center of the storm was near latitude 39.5 north and longitude 77.5 west over north-central Maryland. It was moving north-northeast at 20 mph with winds of about 45 mph.

Gale warnings were posted from Savannah, Ga., to the Merrimac River of Massachusetts and were to be extended to Maine. The National Weather Service said there was a threat of tornadoes in Delaware, eastern Maryland, eastern Pennsylvania and southeastern New York and a threat of serious flooding from Maryland into New England.

David has caused damage estimated in the hundreds of millions of dollars in its rampage through the Caribbean and the Southeast. The storm was blamed for $60 million in damage and six deaths in Florida where it first struck the U.S. mainland with hurricane winds earlier this week.

Two people were killed Wednesday in Virginia, where Gov. John Dalton declared a state of emergency after 10 tornadoes caused heavy damage.

Officials said one person died in a traffic accident caused by rain-slick roads near Wytheville, Va., while another was killed when a tornado hit a house in Fairfax County. Fourteen people were injured and at least 350 evacuated as floodwaters rose and tornadoes formed over the northern part of the state.

Newport News officials said tornadoes caused an estimated $2 million in damage to that city.

High water and winds brought some rail and air service in the Washington, D.C., area to a halt, and Maryland officials said five storms that appeared to be tornadoes smashed into the counties around Baltimore, slightly injuring two people.

Special Flights To London Are Being Planned By Laker

MIAMI (AP) — Officials of Laker Airways, famous for its cut-rate transatlantic "no-frills" flights, say Sir Freddie Laker plans to begin charter service between Miami and London next spring.

Only National Airlines and British Airways currently operate between London and Miami. If given Civil Aeronautics Board approval, Laker Airways would begin one roundtrip DC-10 flight daily by mid-April, a spokesman said Tuesday.

The flights will be conducted through Intersun, a large British charter service, said Don Coppinger, Laker's U.S. sales manager. Under a U.S.-British agreement, only one airline from each country can have regular flights between the two cities, he said.

New Program

Relatives Legal Aliens, Now To Have Easier Time

BOSTON (AP) — Relatives of legal aliens will have an easier time becoming a United States resident under a new, one-step program announced by immigration officials in Boston.

Currently the process takes six months or more. But the program, part of a Carter Administration effort to cut red tape, will reduce the process to 60 days or less, Charles Pappas, spokesman for the Immigration and Naturalization Service in Boston said Tuesday.

The program will allow a foreign visitor to be interviewed immediately, instead of waiting for two scheduled interviews, sometimes months apart. It applies to immediate relatives of aliens who have been granted permanent resident status.

THE ACES® IRA G. CORN, JR.

"Anyone can do any amount of work provided it isn't the work he is supposed to be doing at that moment." — Robert Benchley.

All good players will find East's right defensive shift in today's no trump game. Unfortunately for most of us, it might be quite another matter at the bridge table.

West leads the spade deuce, which East wins, and it's obviously time to find a switch. If East makes the "normal" switch to the diamond jack, dummy wins and, after East's club king is dislodged, declarer will have no problem scoring 11 tricks.

So East should shift to a heart instead of a club. Quite right. But which heart?

If East leads the heart deuce after winning the ace of spades, declarer will duck, West will win the queen, but the defense will be only a bit better off than before. This time declarer will manage to take only 10 tricks.

To beat the game, East must find the imaginative lead of the heart 10 and West must make an alert play of his own. Declarer covers the heart 10 with the jack, West winning the queen.

Now the heart king is fired back to smother dummy's nine, but declarer ducks once again. Finally, declarer is forced to win the ace of hearts and the losing club finesse gives the game to the defense. Declarer loses three hearts, a spade and a club and he has reason to

Your Individual Horoscope

Frances Drake

FOR FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 7, 1979

What kind of day will tomorrow be? To find out what the stars say, read the forecast given for your birth sign.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) ♈ Romantic interest stimulated on the job, but it may be just an exercise in fantasy. Don't be imposed upon. Excitement in the p.m.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) ♉ A new attraction is appealing, but don't go overboard. Disillusionment possible. Spend some time on creative projects and hobbies.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) ♊ An exciting idea about a change at home may be vetoed by other family members. An unexpected work assignment may interfere with plans.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) ♋ Ideas for a new creative project are good. Don't be discouraged if the project requires more work than anticipated. Veto business lunches.

LEO (July 23 to Aug. 22) ♌ Home improvement projects go well, but don't be talked into buying something you don't need. A family member is erratic in disposition.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 to Sept. 22) ♍ You're charming and convincing, but don't arouse false hopes. Curb flirtations. Judgment about joint finances may be off.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) ♎ Inner worries could make it difficult to attend to work, yet for those who do concentrate, progress is indicated by day's end.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) ♏ You're in the mood for exciting good times. As a result, you may be restless at work. A friend may request a loan from you.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) ♐ A trusted confidante gives you a career tip, but keep expectations within reasonable limits. A possible change of plans in the p.m.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 19) ♑ Don't expect too much romantically from a visit afar. You could be swept off your feet — only to be disillusioned later. Friends and family don't mix now.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 to Feb. 18) ♒ A friend could let you down in some way. Edginess affects dealings with superiors. Remain cool. Seek advice about business matters.

PISCES (Feb. 19 to Mar. 20) ♓ Partners are in the mood for good times and may show disinterest in a pet project of yours. Watch spending if traveling.

YOU BORN TODAY have an analytical mentality and sometimes are inclined to fussiness. You're naturally attracted to law, education, science, research, and teaching. You may be especially gifted as a writer. In business, you'd succeed as a banker, broker, or head of a corporation. You do not function at your best in partnership and should learn to soft-pedal your critical disposition. Music, film, acting, architecture, and philosophy are other fields in which you'd find happiness.

HEALTH

A healthy sausage

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I read your column regularly and need some assistance. I was recently diagnosed as having low blood sugar and the doctor suggested that I eat protein snacks between meals as well as high-protein meals.

I do feel better but have gained weight and now feel like a healthy sausage. I would like to know what I can eat that will give me the needed protein without the increase in weight.

DEAR READER — I wonder how many of my readers have ever questioned the popular concept that a high-protein diet causes you to lose weight when people like you tend to gain weight when they eat proteins.

The truth is that proteins are just carbohydrates and fats with ammonia attached to them. The ammonia part of the amino acids in the protein is simply stripped off and the excess protein becomes fat and carbohydrate. The extra ammonia is converted to urea and eliminated in your urine.

There are plenty of high-protein foods that are relatively low in fat. The problem is that many people choose foods that have been told are high in protein but that also contain lots of fat and therefore lots of calories. A good example is whole milk, about half its calories really come from fat.

Meat is an excellent source of protein but you must use lean meats if you want to avoid a lot of fat calories. A good example would be lean round steak with all the visible fat removed.

Chicken breasts or turkey breasts are good sources of protein without fat, particularly if you remove the skin.

The purpose of the high-protein meals and snacks is that they are emptied more slowly from the stomach than are carbohydrates, particularly the concentrated carbohydrates such as sugar. They are absorbed a little slower. As a result, they don't tend to raise your blood sugar and cause you to have rebound low blood sugar reactions.

You can accomplish the same results by being sure your diet contains more bulk. This should come from the bulky vegetables such as leafy salads or raw vegetables. You can even use raw apples since they're fibrous, slowly digested and won't raise your blood sugar very much.

To give you a better understanding of what low blood sugar really is and what you should be doing about a diet, I'm sending you The Health Letter number 3-9, Low Blood Sugar: Hypoglycemia. Other readers who want this issue can send 75 cents in check or coin with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it. Send your request to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

In the final analysis, you will gain weight if you consume too many calories, whether these calories come from fats, sweets, protein or alcohol. If you eat quite a few calories at meals and snack between meals, you can expect to get too many calories.

In your case, I suggest that you review the foods you've been eating to be sure they are truly protein foods with limited fat content.

Rainey's Day

By RAINEY APPERSON

Have you heard a very attractive English speaking couple in the grocery store, or maybe over on MSU's Soccer field? If so, then you have met Dr. Jim Parry, the Fulbright Scholar, who is Dr. Lochie Overby-Christopher's counter-part for this year, and his new bride, Vickie.

Dr. Parry, who did his college work in North Wales, Mid Wales and Manchester University, teaches philosophy of education, secondary method of education, and is also working as a research person for Dr. John Taylor. Dr. Parry is teaching classes at Paducah Community College one night a week, and also in Hopkinsville.

Vickie Parry is enrolled in Murray State University and getting her Master's Degree in Secondary Education.

Jim and Vickie are more or less spending their honeymoon in Murray - they were recently married before leaving for the States. They both like to cook, so they find when one doesn't have the yen to prepare dinner, the other one does.

They love to travel, and plan to do quite a bit during Christmas vacation and summer vacations. They will visit friends at Thanksgiving, and are already making plans to see Florida during Christmas, and hear some fine jazz in New Orleans.

They have found the people here very friendly, and helpful. But, oh, they do miss their English Pubs. Even though we all speak the same language, they find just being in a different country, tends to make things different, with different emphasis. Although Vickie laughingly says, the super markets are the same.

the world over - be it Murray, England, or France.

Dr. Parry's love of travel encouraged him to apply for this Fulbright exchange program - and a blink of his eye - here they are.

I must say, the heat and humidity has them a trifle wilted, but we've all warned them about the cold cold January and February to come.

Little girls have fun at birthday parties, but big girls also adore birthday parties.

Last week the girls at "The Place" along with her close friends, gave Beverly (Mrs. Marshall) Garland a fun birthday party.

Beverly likes frogs, if you can imagine, so the girls had a green and white frog cake baked for her, along with green and white frog plates, napkins and glasses.

Beverly always does for her friends so they decided to go all out for "her day" and she loved it!

Ruth and Howard Brandon were at home in Murray over the Labor Day holidays. As you probably know, the Brandon's have opened a Car Museum down in Nashville on Music Row. They have all of their many many antique cars on display, so the next time you are in Nashville, make a point of dropping by to see them.

Rita and Robert Overby are enjoying Europe in the fall - they are on a ten day touring attraction right now. Robert won this trip for them through his Honda business, and this happens to be the third trip for them - first they won a trip to Japan, then a week in Hawaii and now the jewel of them all - Europe.

We are very pleased to announce that Sherri Requaugh, bride-elect of Randall Scott has selected her pottery, crystal, and sterling from our complete bridal registry. Sherri and Randall will be married October 6, 1979.

She Confesses To an Allergy

DEAR ABBY: You had something in your column about people who were allergic to fragrances. Well, that's my problem. Only I am not allergic to all fragrances, just one.

When I go to confession, as soon as the priest's cologne or after shave hits me, I become nauseated. I tell you, I nearly pass out.

Abby, it's not easy to tell a priest what to do, so how do I solve this problem?

NAUSEATED ON SUNDAY

DEAR NAUSEATED: Tell your priest that you have an unusual "confession." Then confess your allergy to his fragrance, and pray for ablation for him - and absolution for you!

DEAR ABBY: I must comment on a letter signed GRACE. When she complained to a friend that she couldn't find a dress she wanted to buy, she was told not to worry because at her age (70) nobody cared what she wore anyway.

I cannot let that go unchallenged. My mother-in-law is 91 and I wish you could see how she dresses! She wears good-looking, beautifully made clothes that are becoming to her. She begins her day by grooming herself in the morning and putting on pretty lingerie. She says just because nobody sees it is no reason for her not to wear what she likes. She puts on a fresh, lovely dress every day whether she's at home alone or planning to go somewhere. She lives alone and keeps a large house in excellent order, too.

Whenever I see an older woman who is beautifully dressed I never fail to tell her how nice she looks whether I know her or not. It is always so much appreciated.

ELLEN IN PA.

DEAR ELLEN: Thanks for a delightful letter. I've committed your last paragraph to memory and will henceforth follow your generous example. (P.S. And why not tell a well-groomed elderly man how nice HE looks, too.

DEAR ABBY: Will you please settle a slight dispute between my husband and me? We live in a quiet, residential, middle-class area of one-family homes. My husband and I both work. He prefers mowing our lawn as early as possible on the weekend.

I think we should wait until 11 a.m. Our lawn mower is a noisy electric job.

M.W. IN BAYSIDE, N.Y.

DEAR M.: I'm with you. A "quiet, residential neighborhood" doesn't need a noisy lawnmower going at 7 or 8 a.m. on a Sunday morning.

CONFIDENTIAL TO PARENTS WHO ARE SENDING THEIR CHILDREN OFF TO BOARDING SCHOOL OR COLLEGE FOR THE FIRST TIME: Don't bombard your child with "miss you" calls. Allow him (or her) to develop independence and grow up. Don't encourage your child to come home if he's lonesome at first. Sticking it out and overcoming his loneliness will help him to grow and mature socially and emotionally.

Who said the teen years are the happiest? For Abby's new booklet "What Teenagers Want to Know," write Abby: 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212. Enclose $1 and a long, stamped (25 cents), self-addressed envelope, please.

Guest Commentary

Mickey Mouse And Bureaucrats

By Kerby Jennings

A restraining order has been filed by the Kentucky Department of Human Resources against the Kentucky Products, Inc., of Almo charging violations of Kentucky Law. The order has been sustained in Calloway County Circuit Court, thus assuming the small industry of Almo will cease business until an adjudication of the complaints, idling some 40 or more production workers in addition to an estimated 20 or more salesmen.

The plight of the owner, Floyd Nixon, should become a problem of the first magnitude for every thinking person in this county in the presentation of a united front in opposition to the capricious activities of the Department of Human Resources, based upon the major items published in Wednesday's newspaper.

In no way does this source of comment defend legitimate violations in support of the Pure Food and Drug Act, but as a citizen abhors nit-picking of mobile health agents fluttering in and out of the county playing havoc with a small operation in an obvious attempt to drive it out of business. Further, be it understood no brief is presented in defense of Mr. Nixon as an individual. No hand is in the cookie jar, although admit he has been a casual acquaintance.

In addition, no protest is intended to mar the high character of Judge Lassiter's court. But take the major complaints, as recorded by Mr. Nixon as major "offenses" and published in the newspaper as a starting point and branch out for comment.

"Scaling paint on the walls of areas where ingredients are stored." Isn't that a horrendous indictment! Then why not close up the paint companies responsible for selling inferior ltx? It is assumed that ingredients are reasonably protected from pollution from any source upon being stored, as can be found in virtually every storage facility in the county excepting those brand new buildings. How many persons do you know who have been contaminated by falling paint shreds on "stored foods"? You would conclude the Human Resources would make of the insignificant paint peeling a Three Mile Island atomic catastrophe alose on the countryside. It might be in the peeling paint fantasies of cantankerous government agents finding fault with every little successful business across the nation.

Another major health hazard: "A crack in the back door that might allow vermin to enter the building." Man alive, isn't a crack a calamity to the preservation of the race. Had cracks in doors been a vermin passageway of note, we know of one little family back on the farm who maintained an interstate highway for vermin. Perhaps Mr. Nixon should erect a Mickey Mouse sign, posted in Human Resources verbage, "Please go under the door, Mickey, the crack is a violation of the 'might allow' regulation." There's a crack, all right, but it is, in this opinion, sadly misplaced in physical location, but should have been more appropriately designated within the Human Resources mentality.

Here's another blowout of monstrous proportions: "Product overflow build-up of stove pipe burners." Is there such a meticulous homemaker who has never permitted a pot to boil over nor allowed the burner to await an appropriate hour for cleaning? What in the sam hill has that got to do with the purity of the product in the pot? If the little fries back on the farm had have been required to throw away the candy every time it boiled over, there wouldn't have been a batch of candy to sweeten their gullets. But that's what the gumvnt guy blades are decreeing for a up and coming little enterprise in our home county.

Hold your noses and run for the dear life, chilluns, for they have struck at the CIA (Cockroaches Investigator Army) in addition to the regularity of Mickey Mouse. But here are the facts, according to the press release: "Two dead cockroaches and nine mice pellets." Never did call them by that name, Mickey, but it's nice to know the more acceptable term, but they have always been "mice signs" to this department. Have lived 76 years without being ill despite the fact those pesky critters have been unwelcomed nuisances.

The fact the cockroaches were dead was positive proof that a preventive effort had been made to throttle their ornery presence.

Nothing could be more appropriate for government agents than going around the country counting mice signs for it is impossible to conceive of more meritorious efforts and rewarding activity for Human Resources.

In conclusion were listed "buckling of the floor of the storage area, pits in the floor of the kitchen and weeds around he back door." Is that a crime against humanity or a pollutant of candy? How many of us wouldn't be serving life terms in the penitentiary provided we would have been given 10 days for each offense in our lifetime? Did you know that hand-milking a cow in the stable would be far greater polluting effort than all the above listing put together? If the foregoing constitute "unsanitary conditions" of sufficient merit to close down a thriving young industry in Calloway County the entire system of free enterprise is in for a foreclosure.

Regrettably, this writer has lost faith in the hordes of official jobholders swallowing up welfare of the nation through uncontrolled bureaucrats swarming over the land like a plague. Maybe, the thought has occurred to you as it has to us that wretched effort is being made to wipe out all little struggling enterprises in the country. Even to the event of corrupting peanut-headed jobholders to participate in the nefarious elimination process. This is a home county concern, struggling for dear life to make ends meet, hiring 60 employees making use of an abandoned schoolhouse, providing the sinews of community life to Almo, but being harassed out of business by a horde of jobholders waving a polluted banner in the name of sanitary conditions. Stand up for your fellow citizens; chase out the disguised government vermin infiltrating every kitchen; protect and defend each and every infant industry; support your fellow citizens as you would have them support you.

Where are those people who yesterday, as Jim Garrison said to this reporter Tuesday, who were always ready and prepared to foster, support, and develop wholesome growth of this good town and county? That remark prompted us to return to the old role of defending those of whom it was our sincere opinion were being unduly harassed. (Floyd Nixon is not related to Richard Nixon.)

Letters To The Editor

Thanks For Help

Dear Editor:

In the behalf of the children at St. Jude Children's Research Hospital, I would like to take this opportunity to thank The Murray-Calloway County Jaycees for the outstanding job you did with your bike-a-thon. The hospital has acknowledged the $464.55 which was raised to us here at the regional office.

Our spring bike rides here in the central region brought in over $115,000.00 for the children at St. Jude's and nationally over one million dollars was raised. The JC's were a major part of our success and we appreciate the concern and dedication to children with catastrophic diseases.

Groups such as the JC's are just as important to our children as the doctors working to save each life, and the scientist who use the knowledge gained to save cancer victims everywhere. Because of their help we are able to care for the children who come to St. Jude Hospital, without further burdening their families with medical bills. All patients are treated without charge.

And the results of our research work is shared freely through the active participation of our doctors in medical organizations, research papers, medical journals, and direct contact with doctors all over the world.

So the bike-a-thon funds will work in several ways to save lives at St. Jude, and in hospitals everywhere. Again, thank you for caring enough to become involved in our work and for the sake of the children who benefit from your efforts, I sincerely hope we will be able to work together again next year.

Sincerely,
Larry Young

Do You Know Anyone Who Fought In World War I To Help Us Out?

Do you know anyone who served in the Army during or fought in World War I?

Kathy Pasco would like to know. Kathy is a graduate student at Murray State in the history department and is assigned to the Forrest Pogue Oral History Program.

What she would like to be to sit down with anyone who was in World War I, or with anyone who remembers a brother, a father, a friend or a relative who was in the war coming home and sharing their experiences. She would like to get all this on tape as part of a verbal history of that era for their oral history archives at the university.

She is primarily interested in anyone in the Jackson Purchase who was there or knew someone who was. If you can help her out, her office phone at the university is 762-2231, while her home phone is 753-5791.

Surely, there are a lot of folks around who would fit this bill. She just needs to know how to get in touch with some of them.

Dr. Jim Hammack is in charge of the university's oral history program, and Dr. Terry Strieter is in charge of the Jackson Purchase part of the program.

Already, they have shelves and shelves full of tape recordings of the voices of prominent Kentuckians in all walks of life as they share their memories and experiences with the interviewers to be preserved for years to come and for future historians to use in "keeping the record straight."

Judy Magee edits and publishes the Advance-Yeoman at Wickliffe, and in her column, "Looking Ahead," the other day, she passed along the story making the rounds on how to save money by burning wood. Dr. Jim Frank, one of the physical education professors at Murray State, saw it and passed it along to me.

Some fellow had itemized his account of how much burning wood instead of heating with electricity or natural gas had saved him. His expense sheet, as Mrs. Magee listed it, read like this:

Stove, pipe installation, etc., $458.00.
Chain saw, $149.95.
Gas and maintenance for the chain saw, $44.60.

Four-wheel drive pickup in which to haul the wood, $8,379.04.

Four-wheel drive pickup maintenance, $438.00.

Replace rear window of pickup (smashed twice by tossed wood), $310.00.

Fine for cutting unmarked tree in a state forest, $500.00.

Fourteen cases of beer for helpers on wood-cutting expeditions, $50.00.
Littering fine, $50.00.

Tow charge from creek, $50.00.
Doctor's fee for removing splinter from an eye, $45.00.

Safety glasses, $49.50.
Emergency room treatment for toe broken by dropped log, $125.00.
Safety shoes, $49.50.

New living room carpet to replace one with burned holes, $800.00.
Paint walls and ceiling, $110.00.

The Story Of Calloway County 1822-1976

By Dorothy and Kerby Jennings

Copyright, 1978

The tide of events which would stamp 1914 as a Season of Calamities in Calloway County came a bit late in the season. Before the storm a Mr. Neal opened the Pyrene Theatre, a movie house showing three big reels daily just east of the square on Main Street. His adventure was short lived before he disposed of the enterprise to C. C. Durrick. Other lesser notable achievements was the outfitting of the new court house with a Ladies' Room, furnished with public pressure proceeds exacted via the county newspaper publicity route similar to the cash subscription drive for the gravel roads the previous year. Not to be outdone, a Commercial Club was organized in Hazel for a successful campaign for a "water works and electric lights for that lively state-line town."

This was the historical year launching World War I. Little did our people grasp the economic effect this tragic event would have upon the county, but with the terse announcement that French capital underwriting the new interurban system linking Murray with Paducah and Mayfield had been frozen, the shock came home. The line would not be built.

Compared with the more recent years, folks had little to crow about in the world of progress other than educational endeavors. Murray High School announced the installation of a telephone, microscope costing $30, large number of chemicals and two sinks with running water, "an accomplishment Murray could be proud of." At Kirksey School and High School, two year level, officials named B. C. Langston principal, Fred Gingles first assistant, and Miss Burnia Washer in charge of the primary grades.

Murray High boasted a 1914 graduating class of 11 seniors, which included Corinne Sledd, Lena Pool, Mary McElrath, Hilda Williams, Ola Edwards, Mary Cutchin, Adrian Barnett, Hugh Melugin, Loyd Byrd, Hal Jennings, and Hayden Roberts. Teachers for the upcoming year at MHS were Jimmie Jones, principal; C. H. Jagers and Miss Rubie Wear, assistants; Joe Whitnell, 9th grade; Mrs. H. P. Wear, 8th; Miss Wadie Miller, 7th; Miss Essie Harrison, 6th; Miss Lula Holland, 5th; Miss Annie Underwood, 4th; Miss Maggie Houston, 3rd; Miss Verna Robertson, 2nd, and Miss Novella Glasgow, 1st.

Ft. Campbell's Patterson Wary Of Season Despite 1978 Crown

By TONY WILSON
Ledger & Times Sports Editor

To coach Marshall Patterson, there's some good news and some bad news in regard to his Ft. Campbell High School football team.

First, the good:

✓The Falcons are the defending Class A state champions, and 27 members of that squad return.

✓They walloped Hancock County 54-0 last week in their season opener.

Now the bad:

✓Ft. Campbell moved to the tough Class AA before this season.

✓Only four starters are back from the 1978 squad.

So, when the Falcons and Murray High tangle in the Tigers' home opener Friday at 8 p.m. in Ty Holland Stadium, Patterson admits his squad could meet a rude awakening.

"A game like that (against Hancock County) to open your season so many times is more bad for you than good," says Patterson, who has coached Ft. Campbell to two state titles during his 16-year tenure. "A team can get a false impression of itself."

Fortunately for the Falcons, one of its four starters back is quarterback Steve Skelton, a senior who directed his team to its 15-13 victory over then-unbeaten Paintsville last year in the state title game.

This season marks the first that teams must play every other team in its district, making for six each for Ft. Campbell and Murray High. "Given a choice, I would rather start our district play a little later in the year. But playing six games now makes that almost impossible," says Patterson.

Patterson feels the move to Class AA does, in a way, lessen the pressure on his team to defend its state title. "I think the burden would be there if we were still in Class A," he said. "But this (AA) is generally regarded as the toughest class in the state, so it's a new situation for us."

Murray High is 2-0, but its offense stumbled last week in a 4-0 victory over Reidland in a game that produced two safeties as the winning margin.

"There are several things we've had to ask ourselves," said Murray High coach John Hina. "Things like why did we fumble with a first and goal situation at their one-yard line last week? Or, why did we give away a touchdown by drawing a holding penalty?"

"Those things happened to us early, and we let them upset us for the rest of the game," he said. "We feel very good about our offense talent-wise. Our execution is just going to have to improve."

Hina says Murray will have the use of Albert Ball, a junior fullback, for the first time this season. Ball missed both preseason scrimmages and the Tigers' first two games.

"That definitely will improve our depth at that position."

Though Hina feels defense will dominate Friday, he also says that the season is well enough along for the Tiger offense to begin improving its fitness. "In both our first two games, we did some outstanding things on offense, but it was spotty. Now we're after consistency."

Ironically, both coaches are working with the largest squads they have had since their head coaching stints at their respective schools — Hina with around 57 and Patterson with about 60.

"And we're going to need every one of them in the next two weeks," Patterson laughed. Following the Murray High game, the Falcons meet Heath, the preseason favorite to take the Class AA state crown.

"We were at the top last year in Class A," Patterson said. "This year, though, we're fighting for our lives."

The lights have shown brightly for Jon Wissman (75), Zach Jones (76) and the rest of the Murray High squad thus far this season as the Tigers have raced to a 2-0 mark. Their sternest test to date, though, will come Friday against Ft. Campbell.

No Losing For Someone

Either Calloway, McLean To Take First Win

By TONY WILSON
Ledger & Times Sports Editor

It's a whole new ballgame for John Miller this season at McLean County, and he admits he couldn't be happier.

"I happen to believe there's more to high school than football, and there's more football than winning games," said Miller, who admits he's had some objections to that theory in the past.

Although he is already 0-2 in his first season as the Cougars coach, Miller feels he is in a good situation. "The interest is here, and the community really gives its support. With those two things, you can't help but be successful sooner or later."

Success is something neither McLean County nor Calloway County, its 7:30 p.m. opponent Friday at Roy Stewart Stadium, has enjoyed this season. But the faith remains, says Laker coach Stan Outland.

"We'd like this will be our first really good chance at competing on an even basis."

Both schools are striving for the most basic goals. Outland says Calloway, in its first-ever season of varsity football, is simply looking for improvement each week and not concentrating so much with wins and losses.

McLean County, meanwhile, is after its first winning season. Never in its six previous seasons has it happened, though last year's 5-7 mark was close.

Both squads, too, have failed to score this year. But though the Lakers have suffered lopsided losses to Union County and Marshall County, McLean's defeats have been 20-0 to Breckinridge County and 27-0 to Grayson County. Call them respectable romps.

"We were just down 13-0 at the half to Grayson County, and they were ranked in the top 20 in the state," says Miller. "So we feel pretty good about that game."

Miller warns one of his seniors, Bill Heisler, could explode in any game with his outstanding talent. "I haven't figured him out. He's probably the most talented back I've coached since Victor Grubbs (of Trigg County)," he says. "But he is always hot or cold, and if he's hot, well, we could score a lot of points."

Though the McLean County squad will be substantially smaller than either of the first two Laker opponents, its roster of about 35 will still far outnumber Calloway's mid 20s figure.

"We've got seven or eight who have never played before, but I don't believe turning away anyone that wants to compete," Miller said.

Laker fullback Shane Morton is probably out for the season due to a knee injury, says Outland. But the list doesn't stop there. Mike Shipwash will be hampered with a hamstring pull, Don Hargrove has a thumb injury and Mike Pearson is a doubtful starter because of a sore shoulder.

"We've been hit hard the last two weeks, and a lot of our kids are sore," said Outland. "But their attitude has been very good."

To match up against McLean County, Outland says Calloway must cut off the corners on defense and improve its kick protection. "Marshall County blocked two of our punts and could probably have blocked more," he said. "But we've been working on that this week, and we feel better about that area now."

And scoring points, a basic ingredient to winning football games, is something the Lakers must do more than once to defeat McLean County, Outland says. "The punch hasn't been there yet. But if we can keep them from jumping ahead early and setting the tempo, I'm confident we'll make a good showing."

Tanner Avenges Earlier Defeat, Upends Top-Seeded Bjorn Borg

By BARRY WILNER
AP Sports Writer

NEW YORK — The setting couldn't have been more dramatic.

Lightning flashed in the distance. Jaws flew through the fog overhead with booming regularity. Raindrops fell intermittently and a near-capacity National Tennis Center crowd roared with each shot. And lurking just a few miles away was a tropical storm.

It was Roscoe Tanner's rocket that serves that can travel better than 150 mph. It was Bjorn Borg's Swedish thunderbolts, at times traveling faster than Tanner's cannonballs.

And it was so much more, for this was the new Tanner, the midget that covers the court like a rain squall, volleys with precision and constantly applies pressure.

And it was the old Borg, the unflappable No. 1 seed and four-time Wimbledon champion in quest of the tennis Grand Slam, digging deep, deeper into his impressive arsenal.

At the end, when Borg's backhand service return was wide, the fifth-seeded Tanner clenched his fists skyward. Hurricane Roscoe had struck Flushing Meadow.

Tanner, who lost a thrilling five-set final to Borg at Wimbledon, won perhaps the biggest match of his career Wednesday in the U.S. Open. His 6-2, 4-6, 6-2, 7-6 quarterfinal victory was accomplished with the aid of 11 aces, 17 service winners and Tanner's unfaltering confidence.

"I found out right away what I did could work," said Tanner, who until Wimbledon had never reached the final in a major tournament. "It gave me confidence."

"I served well when I was in trouble and that's what it came down to. That and being lucky."

Tanner appeared anything but lucky when, serving at 5-3 in the fourth set and after slamming his 11th ace of the match to save a break point, one of his serves hit the net and the net collapsed. A seven-minute delay followed while a new net was put in place.

"That gives you too much time to sit and think," Tanner said. "All I thought was, 'two more aces.'"

Before play resumed, Borg and Tanner were allowed a short warmup. They exchanged friendly pit-pats to loosen up, then went back to war.

Tanner immediately hit a service winner for his first match point. After a long rally, Borg hit a short lob and Tanner extended heavenward for the overhead smash that would win the match.

"When I saw it, I felt very lucky," he admitted. "After I hit it, I felt very unlucky."

"I mistimed it and overhit it," he added of the overhead, which soared into the first row of seats.

Tanner got another match point when Borg hit a backhand out but he hit a forehand into the net for deuce and Borg passed him twice to draw to 4-5.

Borg then held serve, his seventh ace securing the 5-5 tie.

"You can't think you've blown the match or else you probably have blown it," Tanner noted. "I was thinking, 'Let's get back the concentration.'"

Both held serve again to head into the tiebreaker. Borg made four clear errors in the tiebreaker, which Tanner won 7-2.

Asked what was different about this match and the Wimbledon final, Tanner cracked, "The ending."

"Wimbledon has been a factor in my play overall everywhere," added Tanner, who next meets the winner of tonight's Vitas Gerulaitis-Johan Kriek quarterfinal. "You realize you can play in that category — with the champions."

Borg, who has never won the U.S. Open, credited Tanner with "always putting the pressure on my serve and getting his first serve in on all the important points."

Two women reached the semifinals Wednesday, top seed Chris Evert and No. 9 Billie Jean King. They'll play in a semifinal after Evert topped No. 5 Evonne Goolagong Cawley of Australia 7-5, 6-2, and King defeated longtime rival Virginia Wade of Britain, the No. 4 seed, 6-3, 7-6.

"I haven't played Billie Jean since Wimbledon in '78," said Lloyd, who's seeking her fifth straight Open title. "I always enjoy playing her. She brings out the best in me."

Second seed Martina Navratilova has a quarterfinal encounter with No. 8 Kerry Reid of Australia tonight while Tracy Austin, the third seed, played unranked West German Sylvia Hanika.

Season Tickets To Be On Sale

Student season tickets for the six Murray High home football games will be on sale through Friday in all the city schools.

The Tigers play Fort Campbell in their home opener Friday.

Ohio Valley Conference Football

Feix Offers No Crying Towel In Discussing This WKU Squad

By the Associated Press
BOWLING GREEN, Ky. — Going into his 12th year at Western Kentucky University, head football coach Jimmy Feix is having trouble these days finding enough things to complain about.

This time a year ago, the eternal pessimist had plenty of ammunition.

Western had suffered its worst football season (1-8-1) in history the year before, and many of those youngsters who had taken their lumps were still a little on the green side going into the 1978 season.

A year's experience apparently was all the hilltoppers needed, however. They stunned the rest of the Ohio Valley Conference with a perfect 6-0 league mark, and finished 8-2 overall.

With most of last year's key players back again this fall, Feix has thrown away his crying towel.

Western returns nine starters from last year's offense that averaged 25 points a game, while there are seven holdovers from last year's league-leading defense.

"We're obviously very excited about the coming season," conceded Feix, whose 11-year record at Western stands at 79-32-5 for a 70.3 percentage.

"When you look at all the players we have coming back from last season, you know we're hoping to have another good year."

One of the biggest keys to last year's turnaround was the development of junior quarterback John Hall.

After struggling throughout the disastrous 1977 campaign, Hall hit on 106 of 209 passes last fall for 1,439 yards and 12 touchdowns.

"During that freshman season," recalled Feix, "John couldn't fall out of a boat and hit the water. He really matured last year."

Joining Hall in the backfield this fall will be junior tailback Nate Jones of Madisonville, who rushed for 467 yards a year ago, and sophomore fullback Troy Snardon of Allensville in Todd County, who has looked impressive in pre-season drills after switching over from the defensive secondary.

Other standouts on offense include all-OVC split end Eddie Preston, and second team all-OVC picks Phil Rich (6-4, 260 pounds) and Jeff Alsup (6-2, 225 pounds) at the tackles.

Two all-league performers, Tony Towns and Reggie Hayden, are missing from last year's defense, which often bent but never broke, but two transfers from Tennessee are expected to fill in nicely.

Tim Ford (6-4, 245 pounds) will step in for Towns at defensive end, while Donnie Evans (6-4, 230 pounds) will replace Hayden at linebacker.

Cardinals Fall To Pirates In 11 Innings

Altobelli Fired As Giants' Manager

By the Associated Press
When Darold Knowles fired a baseball wildly, St. Louis lost another ball game. But when San Francisco lost another ball game, it fired Joe Altobelli.

Knowles, who had come on in the 11th inning with the bases loaded to face John Milner, tried instead to pick Bill Robinson off first base. He hit him instead, the ball bounded away and two runners bounded across home plate, giving the Pirates a 7-5 victory over St. Louis that kept them two games ahead of Montreal in the National League East.

San Francisco, which was supposed to be in the thick of things in the West, lost its seventh in a row, 6-5 to Cincinnati, and Bob Lurie, owner of the Giants, decided enough was enough, firing Altobelli and giving Dave Bristol his fourth shot at major league managing.

Philadelphia was rained out. It was the second time this year that a bad pickoff throw by Knowles has cost St. Louis a game. It also happened June 8 against San Diego.

Reds 6, Giants 5 — In Cincinnati, homers by George Foster and Ray Knight and Dan Driessen's decisive RBI double in the seventh inning helped Fred Norman of the Reds beat San Francisco for his 100th major league triumph. Lurie then made his decision and gave Altobelli his walking papers. In 1978 Altobelli was the NL Manager of the Year — but the Giants, 80-60 and just four games out of first place a year ago at this time, are 61-79 and 18½ games off the pace now.

The job was handed to third base coach Dave Bristol, who has managed for nine seasons in the majors with Cincinnati (1966-69), Milwaukee (1970-72) and Atlanta (1976-77).

Keough with a 12-hit attack in snapping his personal 14-game losing streak. With the victory, he avoided recording the longest losing streak in major-league history.

California 9, Chicago 8 — Merv Rettenmund's two-out single in the seventh inning drove in two runs and rallied California over Chicago. With two out in the seventh, Angels catcher Brian Downing beat out a single and Bobby Grich walked. Larry Harlow then bounced a ball behind second base, Downing scoring from second while Grich and Harlow moved up a base on second baseman Tim Morrison's wild throw home.

Red Sox 5, Yankees 0 —

Butch Hobson knocked in three runs with a triple and a homer and Bob Stanley scattered seven hits as Boston broke a four-game losing streak by beating New York.

Boston reached Yankee starter Tommy John, 18-7, in the second inning for two runs on five hits.

Lichtenberg Hopes To Make Morehead Forget Past Losses

By CHARLES WOLFE
Associated Press Writer

Tom Lichtenberg faced a major rebuilding job when he arrived from Iowa State this year to become head football coach at Morehead State. He first had to breathe new life into a team demoralized in recent years by an incredible string of heartbreaking losses.

"Our kids are hungry," Lichtenberg said Wednesday in a telephone interview. "They haven't won. We (the coaches) are new and that helps. Plus, we're doing different things and there's always something new when they come to practice. All those things, I think, help our program."

Lichtenberg had little ground to lose. The Eagles were 2-6 last season and 1-5 in the Ohio Valley Conference. They are picked for the OVC cellar again this season, so any success will be a bonus.

For encouragement,

Lichtenberg looks at the resurgence of Iowa State, a team that was down on its luck for years.

"When we started winning there, we had quality kids with a pretty good attitude," he said. "We've got some of the ingredients here, too. We've got great, great squad attitude. Our problem is that we play quality teams every week."

The Eagles open Sept. 15 at Kentucky State and that's bad news to Lichtenberg. The Thoroughbreds started last Saturday with a 24-0 beating of Fayetteville (N.C.) State.

Coaches hate for their first opponent to get a jump on them. All the practice in the world is no substitute for game experience. But what's worse is the 'Breds get another jump this week with a road game against Mississippi Valley State. They then will host Morehead.

"That's their third game and our first," said Lichtenberg. "We're not allowed to scrimmage (against other teams) and I hope when our kids get to play them, they'll be tired of hitting on each other."

Kentucky State "has been able to see their players under game conditions," said Lichtenberg. "People ask me, 'How good are you?' I say, 'Compared to what?' When you play someone else, you find out."

"We'll be here a month before we play our first ballgame. You've got to get their emotions high and keep them up. I think this is hump week. Next week, we can really start preparing for Kentucky State."

Tommy Fox probably will start at quarterback, where Phil Simms starred before graduating to the National Football League.

Who's No. 1?

Leading Two Candidates For The Top College Ranking Should Have Little Trouble With Foes

By WILL GRIMSLEY

"Who's No. 1?"

"We're No. 1."

It's a question — and response — that inspires passion among college football buffs. They start spouting it with a hoist of index finger the first week in September and don't lower it until the final tabulations after the bowl games.

Even then, controversy continues to sizzle.

The "Big Two" in the preseason poll make their debut Saturday against reputable — but not awesome opponents — and you can expect talent-loaded Southern Cal and defending titleholder Alabama to escape unmarked.

Southern California 33, Texas Tech 10: It should be a romp unless Charles White (1,760 yards and 13 TDs in 1978) takes a trip to China.

Alabama 24, Georgia Tech 14: A bitter rivalry that once had to be suspended out of fear of violence. Wishbone lightning.

Purdue 31, Wisconsin 7: A new look in the Big Ten, thanks to a 6-5 quarterback named Mark Herrmann and a slew of slick receivers.

Michigan 49, Northwestern 6: The Wolverines' problem will be trying to keep the score respectable without making it too obvious.

Stanford 28, Tulane 7: On one condition — that new coach Rod Dowhower can keep his young stars off Bourbon Street.

Florida State 33, Southern Mississippi 6: The Seminoles were all dressed up (8-1) last year and nowhere to go. They're bowl hungry.

Michigan State 46, Illinois

13: On probation last year, the Spartans could play it loose. Now they have to bite the bullet.

North Carolina State 20, East Carolina 14: The Wolf-pack may be the best in their league, but Pat Dye can be hard on the molar.

Washington 30, Wyoming 10: Joe Steele, Tippecanoe and Tyler, too (Toussaint Tyler, that is — he runs over and around you.)

Texas A&M 23, Brigham Young 7: This is one the Aggies will have to win with their shoes on. Barefoot kicker Ron Franklin is now a pro.

Sullivan Wins 1st Of 3 Intrasquad Tournaments

Lynn Sullivan fired rounds of 72-73-71 for an even-par 216 total to win a Murray State intrasquad tournament yesterday at the Murray Country Club. The tourney is the first of three to be played that will determine the top Racer golfers.

The 16 golfers on the squad are awarded points for finishing in the top 10. Following the three tournaments, those 10 will be broken down into two five-man squads, and each will compete in the Sept. 21-22 Murray State Intercollegiate, said coach Buddy Hewitt. Those results will determine the traveling squad.

"These tournaments cut down on the chances of one of the better golfers having a bad round ruin his season," said Hewitt. "After that many holes against the others, the most consistent players should surface."

John Wedell finished second with a 220 total (75-68-77), while Jon Stanley and Bill Berg, a returnee from last year, tied for third at 225.

The rest of the top 10:

Peter Norton, 226; Jeff Zwitter, 228; David Mills, 230; Brad Boyd, 232; Mike McDonald, 232; and Steve Cerwin, 235.

American Boy's Dream Is To Have Fireman's Helmet

By JULES LOH
AP Special Correspondent
CLIFTON, N.J. (AP) — What American boy, in his secret heart, has not longed to have his very own fireman's helmet?

Not some plastic toy, but the real thing: black lacquered rock-hard leather, brim curved up in front, down in back, big shield with a proud number — the hat of the hero in the third grade reader climbing down the ladder with the frightened child.

"It is quite a symbol of adventure," Chris Coombs said, "and it hasn't really changed in 143 years. The hat we make today looks pretty much like the first one made. I will show you."

He took from a cabinet a worn and weathered leather hat with the numeral "1" on the shield. Above the "1" was the name of the wearer's volunteer fire company, "Columbia," below, the name of the wearer, "Gratacap."

The first fire hat. "Well," Coombs said, "I can't swear it is the first fire hat, but Henry T. Gratacap was the man who made the first fire hat and that was his hat. So at least it is one of the first ones made."

Chris Coombs represents the fifth generation of the only firm in America still making leather fire hats — two others sprung up briefly, and vanished, since Gratacap's day — and he regards his heritage less as a business than a sacred trust.

"As long as there are firemen who prefer leather helmets," he said, "Cairns & Brother will make them. It's our legacy."

Cairns & Brother were Jasper and Henry Cairns (or Henry and Jasper) who bought out Gratacap in 1850 and neatly avoided any top billing in their new firm's name.

Gratacap had been a New York luggage maker. Leather hats were nothing new for fire fighters, but it was Gratacap who, in 1836, fashioned the classic one that became the traditional design, known among firemen as the "New Yorker."

"Nowadays," Coombs said, "fire hats come in a variety of new materials but there are firemen who will put nothing on their heads except leather."

"We make a hat out of something called polycarbonate that costs less and tests show is a better helmet than a leather one."

Charges Dismissed Against 56 After Search For Courtroom

MONTICELLO, Ky. (AP) — Fifty-six people got a break when they showed up for Wayne County District Court appearances this week.

When Wayne County District Judge Gordon Bertram arrived at the courthouse for Tuesday's session he found the Fiscal Court meeting in the room remodeled last year for his use.

The building's other courtroom was being used for Circuit Court proceedings.

Bertram said of the 56 people in search of a courtroom, "I'm not going to make them dodge all over the courthouse trying to find the right place."

So he dismissed the charges against all 56. They were charged with offenses including failure to have insurance stickers on their automobiles, bootlegging, drunken driving, and trafficking in marijuana. Bertram said he was unable to get an opinion in a phone call to the Administrative Office of the Courts in Frankfort as to whether he could legally dismiss the charges, but did it regardless.

Local law enforcement officials expressed anger over the move, and County Attorney Tom Carroll said, "It very much meets with my disapproval."

County Judge Halice Upchurch said later that if he had known the district judge needed the courtroom, the fiscal court could have met in his office.

The U.S. Telestar satellite relayed the first live transatlantic telecast in 1962.

Coombs said.

Local Guard Unit To Honor Employers

During the month of September, the Murray unit of the Kentucky National Guard plans to honor and thank the local employers for their support, according to Capt. John R. Slater, commander of the Murray unit.

The recognition is in connection with the proclamation of September as National Employer Appreciation Month by the National Guard Bureau in Washington.

Area companies or businesses that have pledged their support are: Tappan Company, General Tire and Rubber, Tennessee Valley Authority—Land Between the Lakes, Swift Roofing, Murray State University, Kentucky Fried Chicken, Sager Glove Co., Kentucky State Penitentiary, Rose's Department Store, Servicemasters of West Kentucky, Enix Interiors, Uncles Jeff's, McDonald's.

Murray-Calloway County Hospital, Creditworth of America, Dixie Cream Donuts, Shroat-Waldrop Real Estate, Parker's Market, Kashway Bldg. Materials, Chaparel Motors, Radio Shack, West Kentucky Music, Five Points Gulf, Marimak Industrial, James Billington Contractors and F. T. Sergents and Associates.

A local spokesman said the Guard can thrive only through the continued support of local employers and businessmen. The need for strong employer support is greater today than at any time in the nation's history, he continued.

It has become increasingly difficult for the Reserve Forces to maintain required strength levels, levels that are critical to the national defense, the spokesman said. Employers can play a key role in maintaining the strength of the Reserve program through policy decisions supporting military participation.

Forums Scheduled

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The Kentucky Diabetes Commission has scheduled public forums on diabetes at Lexington and Hazard.

In return for their support of the Guard and the participation of their employees in the Guard, the employers also reap many benefits, he said.

He explained that a member's military training often qualifies him for skilled positions, and as a Guardsman progresses through his career, the leadership experience and training he receives are added benefits to the employer. The employer may also recognize the benefits of having a local Guard unit to support the community in case of an emergency.

Federal law provides protection for an employee while he is serving in a military capacity from loss of benefits, but most employers have gone a step farther and pledged their support of the Guard.

The employers have developed personnel policies which sanction and approve of employee membership, pledged that employees will not sacrifice earned vacation or leave times to participate in Guard activities, and have promised the Guardsmen will be given equal consideration for promotions and salary increases.

The National Guard is located in a temporary facility off South 4th Street on Sunbury Circle. It maintains regular office hours of 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Response Lukewarm To TVA Solar Water Heating Offer In Memphis

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Shelby County homes, but the idea may be catching fire. "A lot of people have had a wait and see attitude," Jim Griffin, a TVA site manager, said Monday evaluating the multimillion dollar program after almost a year.

So far, he said, less than 150 units have been installed and another 134 contracts have been signed for the units. Griffin said, however, the idea is picking up volunteers and TVA hopes to meet the goal of 1,000 units installed in Memphis area homes by 1980.

The TVA authorized $3.3 million last fall to purchase the hardware to install the solar units.

Griffin said officials at TVA's Solar Resources Center in downtown Memphis are encouraged because they are now receiving about 100 daily inquiries on solar energy and a backlog is developing.

"Most of our interest has been generated by positive articles in the press," he said. "Once the units are installed we rely on word-of-mouth."

Memphis was chosen for the first program because it gets more sunshine yearly than any other metropolitan area in the seven-state TVA region, Griffin said.

Under the program, a homeowner pays $2,000 for the solar system, either a lump sum or $13 per month over a 20-year period.

The solar systems consist of three basic parts — solar collectors, usually placed on the roof; an 80-gallon tank for storage of the sun heated water; and a 120-gallon conventional water tank that serves as a backup to the solar tank.

Currently, the savings over conventional water heating methods is minimal, Griffin said. The average homeowner with an electric water heating system pays $10 to $15 a month, while the solar bill comes to $13 a month. But officials said the solar customers will realize larger savings as electric costs rise.

Group Raises Funds For Cancer Center

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A group of Louisville civic and business leaders claims to have raised almost all of the $11 million needed to construct a cancer-care and research center that will serve west Kentucky and south Indiana.

The city of Louisville has provided the land and Jefferson County put up $500,000 for the project, which will be built without federal or state tax money, the projects directors said Tuesday.

while solar costs remain the same.

The TVA is promoting the solar water heating plan as a way of conserving energy. If more people use solar power, the utility's peak load electricity demand will be reduced.

The TVA board last month voted to extend the program to Nashville.

The Nashville plan will differ in that the TVA will not buy the hardware and store it as in Memphis, but will leave that to private firms, Griffin said.

The agency will continue to provide low-cost financing for homeowners interested in the plan.

TVA serves Tennessee and parts of Alabama, Mississippi, Georgia, North Carolina, Virginia and Kentucky.

Two years ago, Radio Shack introduced the TRS-80: The wired, tested, UL listed and ready-to-run microcomputer that more people have bought than any other single computer in history. TRS-80 is like a big computer, but it stores less data and runs at a lower speed. It has proven ideal for uses in school, business, lab and home, where a large computer is impractical.

Thousands with no computer experience — just like you — have discovered computers with a Level I system. Many are using our dozens of ready-to-run cassette programs, while others have learned to program TRS-80 themselves. Level I's manual makes programming easy and fun to learn. Then you can convert to the powerful Level II language for more advanced capabilities.

Your system will include everything pictured — everything you need — plus the manual. And it's waiting now, less expensive than ever, at your nearest Radio Shack store or participating dealer.

Meet TRS-80's Big Brother! The New TRS-80 Model II

We've added a bigger, more powerful "brother" to the TRS-80 family. It's TRS-80 Model II — a completely new microcomputer for business applications. Its capabilities begin where TRS-80 Model I approaches its upper limits. Storage capacity from 1/2 megabyte to 2 megabytes!

Historical Society Sets Tour October 13

The region of the Jackson Purchase or Chickasaw Treaty of 1818 and Nathan Bedford Forrest County are the sites to be visited on the 22nd annual Jackson Purchase Historical Society tour on Saturday, Oct. 13.

Dr. and Mrs. Hunter Hancock will again be hosts for the trip. A few other sites such as the Natchez Trace and the Colbert Ferry crossing will be included. The Hancock's have already made three preliminary trips by car to scout out the land.

Lunch will be served at McFarland City Park in Florence, Ala. A visit will be made to Pope's Tavern Museum of 1811, Alabama's oldest building and Wilson Dam Park, site of the world's highest single life lock and the oldest in the TVA system. The group will also see Ivy Green at Tusculum, birthplace of Helen Keller.

The evening meal will be eaten at Wolf's Restaurant in Savannah, Tenn. Besides Forrest State Park, the group will see Trace Creek Annex, site of General Forrest's last great raid near Old Johnsonville.

The cost of the tour will be $27, which will include all expenses of the day - travel, box lunch, tour admissions, drinks, dinner including tax and tip, and incidental expenses of the bus driver.

Reservations with check must be received by Miss Margaret Heath, secretary, 1202 Joe Creason Drive, Benton, Ky. 42025, on or before Oct. 3. All seats must be filled by that date or the tour will be canceled.

As in the past, non-members will be accepted if the reservation is covered by check in case of last-minute vacancies. The full address should be stated so refunds can be made. No member may cancel a reservation after Oct.

3 unless a replacement is available or obtained.

The bus will leave Paducah's Greyhound station at 6 a.m., the Mayfield bus station at 6:40, and the Murray bus station at 7:20. Since the society now has about 300 members, an early reservation is recommended for the 43 seats.

Homebuilders Expected To Weather Tight Money

WASHINGTON (AP) — Housing industry worries are mounting in the face of ever-increasing interest rates, but homebuilders will weather the tight money climate, say many economists.

Builders will have to "play it a little more cautiously, but they won't fall off the edge," says Kenneth J. Kerin, economist for the National Association of Realtors.

That view was echoed repeatedly, in telephone interviews Tuesday, by economists representing private forecasting firms, thrift institutions and real estate agents.

Homebuilders frequently face interest rates 3 percentage points above the current 12 1/4 percent prime rate. Many economists are saying the prime rate may reach 12 1/2 percent as early as this week, and probably will go to 12 3/4 percent before long. The prime is the rate commercial banks lend to their best customers.

Disagreeing with many of his professional colleagues, Michael Sumichrast, chief economist for the National Association of Home Builders, says a 12 1/2 percent prime rate would present a "very dangerous" situation for builders.

As a backdrop to his pessimism, Sumichrast points to the housing industry's current condition.

Housing starts this year are expected to decline 20 percent from 1978. The industry faces the loss of 480,000 jobs and $7.5 billion in wages. Bankruptcies among homebuilders during the first six months of 1979 are 33 percent higher than in the same period last year.

Sumichrast believes housing starts next year could plummet to 1.5 million units compared with slightly over 2 million last year.

That prediction is strongly rebutted by Jack Carlson, executive vice president of the National Association of Realtors, who sees housing starts rebounding next year to 1.9 million units.

Vine Grove Elementary Students To Double Up In Another School

VINE GROVE, Ky. (AP) — After missing five days of classes because of an apparent natural gas leak, pupils of Vine Grove Elementary School are going to double up in another school until the situation is corrected.

The Hardin County superintendent of schools, Charlie Akins, announced Wednesday that, starting today, the 680 pupils at Vine Grove were to be going to Parkway Elementary School in Radcliff until further notice.

Workers for Louisville Gas and Electric Company have been searching for the apparent leak since it was detected at the school Aug. 27. So far, students have stayed at home for what would have been five class days.

So that the Parkway school can accommodate all the students, the more than 700 regular Parkway pupils will report 45 minutes earlier each day and will be in school from 7:45 a.m. until 1 p.m. Students from Vine Grove will attend classes from 1 p.m. until 6 p.m.

The two schools are in adjacent communities and are about three miles apart.

When Akins had a meeting with parents earlier about the problem, the proposal of possibly combining the enrollment of both schools at Parkway did not seem well-received.

Hells Canyon forms part of the border between Oregon and Idaho. It is the deepest gorge in North America. It drops 7,900 feet at its deepest point. This is enough to hold six Empire State Buildings stacked one on top of the other.

Final Rites Today At Local Chapel For Mr. Magness

Final rites for Connie Magness were held this morning at 10:30 at the chapel of the J. H. Churchill Funeral Home with the Rev. Dr. David C. Roos officiating.

Pallbearers were David Magness, J. Marvin, Paul Lyons, Sr., Dr. Donald Hughes, Clyde Willoughby, and Auburn Wells. Burial was in the Oak Grove Baptist Cemetery in Graves County.

Mr. Magness, 83, a resident of 1611 West Main Street, Murray, died Wednesday at 9:10 a.m. at the Murray-Calloway County Hospital. His wife, Mrs. Madeline Ivy Magness, preceded him in death. Born Feb. 26, 1896, in Graves County, he was the son of the late Charles Edward Magness and Martha Bradley Magness.

A nephew, Charles Magness of Mayfield, is a survivor.

The deceased was a retired painter and a member of the First Christian Church.

Steve Nunn, Candidate's Son, Will Speak At MSU

Steve Nunn, son of gubernatorial candidate Louie B. Nunn, is serving as the State Chairman of Young Kentuckians for Governor Nunn and will speak at Murray State University on Tuesday evening, September 11 at 7:30 p.m. in Room 208 of Faculty Hall.

"During Louie Nunn's previous gubernatorial campaign the young people in Murray and Calloway County had a significant impact upon the outcome of the election — as a matter of fact Gov. Nunn made the best showing in Calloway County of any Republican candidate in recent history," commented Johnny Cannon, a spokesman for the group. "We are having Steve Nunn as a special guest."

Boones Will Speak At Full Gospel Fellowship Meet

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Boone of Nashville, Tenn., parents of Singer Pat Boone, will speak at the meeting of the Full Gospel Business Men's Fellowship at the Gateway Steakhouse, Dravenville, on Saturday, Sept. 8.

They will also be the guest speakers at the 11 a.m. services on Sunday, Sept. 9, at the Christian Fellowship Church at Briensburg.

Mr. Boone who received his degree in architecture from the University of Florida, is president of Boone Construction Company, Inc., Nashville, Tenn. They have four children, 14 grandchildren, and three great grandchildren.

Supper will be served at 6 p.m. on Saturday prior to the program. All men, their wives, and children are invited, a spokesman said.

By The Associated Press
Tropical Storm David spewed tornadoes from Virginia to New Jersey and caused flooding that forced hundreds to flee their homes today as it moved into the Northeast still packing a destructive wallop.

Three more deaths were attributed to the storm, bringing the number of U.S. casualties to 13. David has caused more than 900 deaths since it was spawned in the Caribbean last week. Some 800 to 1,000 people were evacuated from their homes in Maryland early today, most of them in Baltimore.

HAIFA, Israel (AP) — President Anwar Sadat returns to Egypt today after a brief summit meeting with Prime Minister Menachem Begin that maintained the momentum of the peace process and produced agreement on three issues.

However, no progress was reported on the key problem of autonomy for the Palestinians living under Israeli occupation, and Sadat and Begin also were still split on the emotional issue of Jerusalem's future.

LONDON (AP) — Increased British-Irish exchanges of information on IRA activity are predicted as a result of a meeting between Prime Ministers Margaret Thatcher of Britain and Jack Lynch of Ireland following the funeral of Earl Mountbatten.

Mrs. Thatcher and Lynch announced after a five-hour meeting Wednesday they had "agreed on their determination to stamp out terrorism" and that "recent events require that the present extensive cooperation between the authorities of the two countries must now be substantially improved."

The leaders of the Kurdish rebellion have fled from Iran to neighboring Iraq, a Tehran newspaper reports, and the state radio says the Kurdistan region is "completely calm" after weeks of bloody fighting. The Kurdish spiritual leader, Sheikh Ezzedin Hosseini, sought political asylum in Iraq Sunday along with his brother and Abdul Rahman Qassemlu, secretary-general of the outlawed Kurdish Democratic Party, the Tehran Times reported.

Funds Needed For Old Salem Cemetery

Contributions are needed to continue for the care and upkeep of the Old Salem Cemetery, according to trustees of the graveyard.

Any person desiring to contribute to the fund may take or mail their donations to Jack Dodd, Route 8, Murray, or at Fitts Block Company, Murray.

Dental Program Cited For Award

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The dental health program of the Department for Human Resources and the Kentucky Dental Association have been nominated for a national-community preventive dentistry award.

The American Dental Association sponsors the annual award.

Human Resources and the KDA have jointly undertaken preventive dental health programs such as a statewide fluoride mouthrinse program, a school-based dental sealant program, distribution of preschool fluoride supplements and fluoridation of community and rural water supplies.

The award will be presented at the American Dental Association national convention Oct. 21-25 in Dallas.
